Meadowlands Environment Center Membership Program

The New Jersey Meadowlands Commission has transformed landfills and restored damaged wetlands to become a haven for wildlife and preserve the area's natural beauty for generations. Did you know that the Meadowlands is an annual migratory stop for thousands of birds? More than 250 species have been sighted here.

The Meadowlands Environment Center was formed to increase awareness and enjoyment of our vital ecosystem through programming for schools and the general public. The Center provides a unique opportunity to explore 7,500 acres of restored wetlands. Here at DeKorte Park you can walk through this urban salt marsh estuary, and observe wildlife in its natural habitat.

The Meadowlands Environment Center receives no state or federal funding for its facilities or programming. When you become a Member of the Meadowlands Environment Center, your contribution will help us; maintain our commitment to greater public awareness of environmental concerns in the Meadowlands, provide innovative programming and expand our services.
